The Daily Bulletin.

TUESDAY, NOV. 7, 1882.

had done to make his burden light, and hoped to meet them all in—

"When pa got down as far as that he sort of broke down. I suppose he was going to say heaven, though after a few minutes they all thought he wanted to meet them in a saloon. When his eyes began to leak, pa put his hand in his tail pocket for his handkerchief and got hold of it, and gave it a jerk, and out came the handkerchief and the cards. Well, if he had shuffled them and ma had cut them, and he had dealt six hands they couldn't have been dealt any better. They flew into everybody's lap. The deakin that was with ma got the jack of spades, three aces and a deuce, and ma got some nine spots and a king of hearts, and ma nearly fainted, cause she didn't get better hand I s'pose. The preacher got a pair of deuces and a queen of hearts, and he looked up to ma as though it was a misdeal, and an old woman who sat across the aisle, she only got two cards, but that was enough. Pa didn't see what he had done at first, 'cause he had the handkerchief over his eyes, but when he smelled the rum on it he took it away, and then he saw everybody discarding, and he thought he had struck a poker game, and he looked around as though he was mad 'cause they didn't deal him a hand. The minister adjourned the prayer meeting and whispered to pa, and everybody went out holding their noses on account of pa's fumery and when pa came home he asked ma what he should do to be saved. Ma said she didn't know. The deakin told her pa seemed to be wedded to idols. Pa said the deakin better run his own idols, and pa would run his. I don't know how it is going to turn out, but pa says he is goin' to stick to the church."—Milwaukee Sun.
